RE: Mike Dooley Construction

To Whom It May Concern,

There are house builders, and then there are home builders.

Mike Dooley is one of the finest home builders in all of Florida. Mike, his staff and job supervisors are all friendly, knowledgeable and timely with every task handed to them. The job site was organized and well ran. The laborers working for Mike Dooley were very respectful of the fact that Mike was building a family home that could withstand the Florida Keys elements. Everything they do is geared to provide you with the finest quality home. Quality was never sacrificed when a problem arose.

The Dooley Construction Company was extremely diligent in making sure all of our smallest details were attended to. I found Mike, his staff and supervisors to be extremely knowledgeable with knowing how to resolve all of our building issues without major set backs. The end result was we received a quality home that can be passed on from generation to generation.

I also found Mike and his staff to be honest, reliable and timely with every challenge presented while building our family Tuscan Villa on the Florida Bay. Our home required hours of meetings with the architect due to the amount of detail for wood ceilings and beams. Mike and his staff met every challenge and accomplished exactly what the architect asked of them. Mike is a man of integrity with honesty and quality as his trademark.

If you are looking for a home builder who makes the construction process seem stress-free, a home built with old school quality craftsmanship, then Mike Dooley will not disappoint you.

Sincerely,

John J. Barone II
